

Property, Housing, and Land: Pillars or Barriers of Restorative Justice?

Interdisciplinary Dialogue Series (#4)

Thursday, October 6
5:30 - 6:30 pm | Hybrid

Rally for Social and Economic Justice & Equality by the U.S. Capitol, Washington, D.C. Photo courtesy of Lorie Shaull via Flickr.

Dialogue #4

The final session of the Dialogue Series will discuss how regimes of property are at the heart of housing and land contestations as they anchor conceptions of rights, sustainability, and humans' relationship to the more-than-human world.

- How are they currently conceived vs. how could they be reconceived in a restorative-just built environment?

Dialogue Participants

- Dr. Prentiss Dantzler, Assistant Professor, Sociology, University of Toronto
- Dr. Heather Dorries, Assistant Professor, Geography and Planning, University of Toronto, North American Indigenous Perspectives
- Dr. Magdalena Ugarte, Toronto Metropolitan University, Latin American and Canadian Indigenous Perspectives
- Dr. Dawn Jourdan, MAPP+D Dean, lawyer, and planner

Registration required

JEDI Collaborative

SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE,
PLANNING & PRESERVATION

go.umd.edu/restorative_justice4